

Video transcript

The Hongkong Bank Foundation overview

[Narration] We know our city, our community, our people.

We also know that some of us need a little help and we have been doing just that, for over 40 years.

The Hongkong Bank Foundation and our volunteers have continued this proud tradition of giving, looking forward with our young people, giving them the time and inspiration they need to rise to challenges.

And through our scholarship programmes, our best and brightest students can find opportunities to fulfil their potential at home or even in a new home not so far away.

While we are committed to those who will shape our 'tomorrow', we have a responsibility to those who built our 'today'.

We want to ensure that elderly people aren't forgotten, that they are happy and looked after, and that they know we are grateful for the city they have given us.

Old or young, we all live together.

It's our time to make sure that we pass on Hong Kong to the next generation as an even more beautiful place than when we started.

The Hongkong Bank Foundation, now and forever.

One community, going forward, together.