

The Hongkong Bank Foundation:
Lending a helping hand to community

[Narration] We all need an extra hand sometimes, so here is an ode to hands.

Hands are the human touch. They can show determination to protect what we have today whilst planting the seeds for tomorrow.

The hands that give, and guide, help save lives, and the ones that are there when we need them the most.

The ones that can comfort in lonelier times and guide you on every step of the way, lead as an example and provide the essentials to those in need.

So here is a celebration of the wrinkly hands, the smooth hands and even the mucky ones.

But above all, the helping hands that are here for the Hong Kong community.
